Can a business install a rooftop solar photovoltaic system?

Businesses are not mandated to install rooftop solar photovoltaic systems, even when building from scratch. The current Energy Performance Certificate regulations (which say that buildings must display their use of energy) only need to indicate how much energy is being used to operate a building (the energy efficiency performance).

Could South Africa's rooftops power 6 million homes?

Read the original article. Solar Rooftops: South Africa's vast rooftops could power 6 million homes, reducing coal reliance and boosting renewable energy.

Could solar power power South Africa?

South Africa has many factories, warehouses, schools and hospitals — big buildings with large rooftop spaces. In such a sunny country, these flat surfaces would be perfect for large photovoltaic solar systems that could generate enough renewable energy to supply themselves and feed into the national grid.

Are rooftops suitable for solar?

Similar studies have been done in Beijing, China and in the US using LiDAR (light detection and ranging). This is where lasers were used to detect whether the position of buildings and the amount of shade that fell on their roofs made them suitable for solar installations. These studies showed that up to 85 per cent of rooftops were suitable.
