Colombia Zero Carbon Energy Storage Project

Overview

GenZero and Trafigura commit $100M to Colombia's largest carbon removal project to sequester 20MtCO₂ and generate carbon credits. How can renewables help improve Colombia's energy access?

Extensive renewables potential in the La Guajira region should help advance rural electrification and close the energy access gap. Concentrated in the northern regions, which has a 50 gigawatt (GW) offshore wind potential, renewables can also provide the clean energy needed to jump-start Colombia's hydrogen production.

Does Colombia have a decarbonised power sector?

Colombia has a largely decarbonised power sector thanks to the significant role of hydropower and bioenergy. Electricity demand is expected to increase as a result of economic growth and the electrification of end-use sectors, an opportunity to decarbonise the transport sector over time.

Why should we invest in a biodiverse project in Colombia?

This partnership not only underscores the growing importance of sustainable investment but also highlights the potential of collaborative efforts in addressing climate change. Brújula Verde, located in the biodiverse Orinoco River Basin, is set to become the largest nature-based carbon removal project in Colombia.

What is Ecopetrol doing in Colombia?

Colombia's national oil company, Ecopetrol (Empresa Colombiana de Petroleos), is supporting the shift to low-carbon energy with investment plans for clean energy technology.
