Can a lithium-ion battery energy storage system detect a fire?

Since December 2019, Siemens has been offering a VdS-certified fire detection concept for stationary lithium-ion battery energy storage systems.* Through Siemens research with multiple lithium-ion battery manufacturers, the FDA unit has proven to detect a pending battery fire event up to 5 times faster than competitive detection technologies.

What is a fire protection system?

A fire protection system, such as fire sprinklers, is designed to safeguard everyone inside a building and reduce damage in the event of a fire. These systems are put into practice during the design phase of a new structure.

How should a fire protection system be maintained?

Fire protection systems should be maintained in an operable condition as outlined in respective NFPA standards and the DOE "Model" Fire Protection Program. DRAFT Quality Assurance of Fire Protection Systems May 15, 1996 Page 12 of 13 a. Written procedures for inspection, testing, maintenance and operations, should be developed and utilized. b.

Can a battery fire alarm system detect a pending battery fire?

Through Siemens research with multiple lithium-ion battery manufacturers, the FDA unit has proven to detect a pending battery fire event up to 5 times faster than competitive detection technologies. This translates into earlier transmission of danger signals to the resident battery management and fire alarm systems.
