

How big of an inverter should a 100kw solar system be equipped with

Overview

The rule of thumb is to size your inverter 1.25 bigger than your solar array. In some cases, you may need to use multiple inverters to meet your power needs or increase your system's voltage. How big should a solar inverter be?

To account for power losses assume an 80 percent efficiency. Your solar inverter should have a similar or slightly higher wattage rating than the DC output of your solar panels (which in this case is 4.5 kW). You can size it between 1.15 and 1.5 times larger. The rule of thumb is to size your inverter 1.25 bigger than your solar array.

Why is inverter size important?

Inverter size also plays a key role in the DC-to-AC ratio—a critical design metric in any solar system. This ratio compares the total power rating of your solar panels (in DC) to the maximum output of your inverter (in AC).

How do I choose a solar inverter?

Knowing your array size allows you to choose an inverter that can handle that production efficiently—without over- or under-investing in capacity. The second step is understanding your system's DC-to-AC ratio, one of the most important metrics when sizing a solar inverter.

How many inverters do you need for a 12 kW solar system?

Inverter: one or two inverters of a combined 10 kW–15 kW A 12 kW solar installation in a farm near Berlin utilized a 10 kW inverter with excellent results—saving a couple of hundred dollars on initial cost and still registering peak output. 3. Equate Load Requirements, Not Panel Watts It's not solely about sunlight—actual usage matters, too.
