What is a Huawei base station?

Let's dive into a technical explanation. A base station, also known as an eNodeB (for 4G LTE) or gNodeB (for 5G NR) in Huawei's terminology, is a piece of equipment that facilitates wireless communication between user equipment (UE) like smartphones, tablets, and IoT devices, and the core network of the telecommunications provider.

What is Huawei site power facility?

Huawei Site Power Facility offers energy-efficient, low-carbon power supply solutions, enabling carriers to build environmentally sustainable, resilient networks for modern telecommunications infrastructure.

What is Huawei PowerCube?

To address this situation, Huawei offers PowerCube, an industry-leading hybrid power supply solution. Built along the lines of a Micro-Grid Energy System (MGES), it comprises four elements – power generation, control, monitoring, and energy storage.

What is a base station Power Supply Unit (PSU)?

Power Supply Unit (PSU): This provides the necessary electrical power to operate the base station components. It ensures that all parts of the base station have a consistent and reliable power source. Backhaul Interface: This is the connection between the base station and the core network.
