Overview

How efficient are bifacial solar panels?

One such invention is Bifacial solar panels that are claimed to have an efficiency of 27% which is 11% more than mono-facial panels. Even if we look at overall trends, the market share of BF technology is continuously increasing since 2017.

Are bifacial solar panels a smart upgrade?

Bifacial solar panels are a smart upgrade for anyone looking to get more energy from the same space. Since they can capture sunlight from both sides, they often produce more electricity than regular panels. They're also built to last longer and look sleeker.

What are bifacial solar cells?

Bifacial solar cells (BSC) are photovoltaic solar cells that produce electrical energy when exposed to the sun on both front and rear sides. This is why the efficiency of bifacial solar cells — the ratio of available sunlight power to generated electrical power — is measured independently for the front and rear side under one or several suns.

What is the difference between monofacial and bifacial solar panels?

Monofacial solar panels use an opaque backsheet that only permits the front face of the panel to receive sunlight. Conversely, Bifacial solar features light-absorbing panels exposed on both sides. This enables them to absorb reflected light from surfaces such as white rooftops, sand, or snow.
