What is a battery management system (BMS)?

Battery management systems (BMS) are a critical component of electric vehicle (EV) batteries and energy storage systems (BESS) to ensure safe and efficient operation of the battery pack. BMS performs several functions, including monitoring the battery's state of charge, state of health, and state of safety.

What is a battery management software?

Battery Management Software: The BMS software is responsible for managing and controlling the various components of the BMS. It processes the data from the battery monitoring ICs, implements the battery protection and balancing algorithms, and communicates with other ECUs in the vehicle.

What is BPU & BMS?

The BPU provides protection against overvoltage, undervoltage, overcurrent, and thermal events. The design of BMS also includes cell balancing, which ensures that all cells in the battery pack are charged and discharged equally. Cell balancing helps to extend the lifespan of the battery pack and improve its overall performance.

What is a BMS communication interface?

Communication Interface: The BMS needs to communicate with other Electronic Control Units (ECUs) in the vehicle, such as the Vehicle Control Unit (VCU) and the Charging Control Unit (CCU), to exchange information and coordinate the functions of different systems. The communication interface is used to establish this communication.
